

Sky, Stone & Summer.

*A palette drawn from the European summer —
ancient olive groves, coastal sage mist, golden chamomile fields, and warm cedar walls baked in afternoon sun.*

Dominant: Mosswood + Almond Cream

Mosswood anchors navigation, headings and structure. Cream and Linen form all background surfaces — warm, breathable, never stark white.

Accents: Glacier Mist + Golden Fennel

Sky blue for links, hover states, and coastal quiet. Fennel gold and Chamomile for warmth, dates, labels, and decorative rule lines.

Edge Ecologies and the Poetics of Marginal Ground

Nature & Culture, Vol. 19(2)

Words That Settle

The voice is...

- Curious and observational — it notices things
- Precisely worded, never stiff or bureaucratic
- Warm — it assumes shared interest in ideas
- Unhurried, comfortable with nuance
- Confident but genuinely humble

The voice is not...

- Jargon-heavy or gatekeeping to non-specialists
- Breezy or relentlessly casual
- Boastful — credentials speak quietly
- Abstract without a grounding image
- Urgent, promotional, or conversion-driven

EXAMPLE — BIO OPENING

“I study the edges of things — the margins between disciplines, between seasons, between what we know and what we only suspect.”
